

EUROPEAN JOURNAL OF

pd online

PEDIATRIC DERMATOLOGY

Infantile hemangioma vs Congenital hemangioma. 68

Tricoscopy findings in tinea capitis. A rapid method of diagnosis. 71

*Early-onset androgenetic alopecia: a clue to
the diagnosis of tricho-
rhino-phalangeal syndrome.* 75

The utility and significance of minor criteria for diagnosis of atopic dermatitis. 79

Anticonvulsive hypersensitivity syndrome due to diazepam. 87

Atenolol and infantile hemangioma. 90

*13th ESPD Congress.
Free communications
and posters.* 95

Bathing suit ichthyosis. 113

Malalignment of the big toe nail in mother and child. 114

*Eczematous
blaschkitis.* 115

Multiple cutaneous circumscribed lymphangiomas. 116

Zosteriform herpes simplex followed by recurrent herpes simplex. 118

Cellulitis due to molluscum contagiosum. 120

*Concomitant plane
warts and molluscum
contagiosum.* 122

*Erythema multiforme
associated with varicella.* 123

Familial, autosomal dominant chronic mucocutaneous candidiasis and fluconazole. 124

Recurrent superficial folliculitis of the buttocks. 126

*Transient lymphedema
due to intense physical activity.* 128

POST-GRADUATE JOURNAL OF
THE EUROPEAN SOCIETY FOR
PEDIATRIC DERMATOLOGY
ISSN 2281 - 9649

vol. 26, 2016